FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

DreamCon Event Announces Actor Ron Perlman as its Guest of Honor

JACKSONVILLE, FLA. --- Ron Perlman has been a Hollywood staple for nearly 20 years. His presence has graced the big screen in features all the way from "Enemy at the Gates" and "Blade II," to his lead role in this spring's much-anticipated "Hellboy" due out April 2. He's also made a name for himself by playing big parts in such small screen fare as "Beauty and the Beast." And his voiceover work can be heard in everything from "Titan A.E." to "Batman: The Animated Series."

This is why the DreamCon staff is thrilled to have him as part of DreamCon's inaugural year.

"Ron [Perlman] rounds out a list of excellent guests that have agreed to be part of this event," says Ron Methvin, chief organizer of DreamCon. "It's a fantastic opportunity for this part of the country to bring talent and family-friendly entertainment to the area well in advance of the Super Bowl."

Other guests include actors Erin Gray ("Buck Rogers," "Baywatch," "Silver Spoons"), Brian Thompson ("X-Files," "Joe Dirt," Star Trek: TNG, DS9 and Generations, "Buffy" and "Charmed"), Tony Amendola ("Alias," "The Practice," "Stargate: SG1"), and Gary Graham ("Alien Nation," "Enterprise," "JAG"), as well as literary guests Peter David, Larry Niven, Dr. Jerry Pournelle and Christopher Golden. The voice of Jimmy Neutron, and also and Clay on Playhouse Disney, will also be present: Debi Derryberry.

As Guest of Honor, Perlman will meet and greet with conference goers as well as deliver a panel on his life and career in the mainstream media. He will be in attendance on Saturday only.
